FOSTER'S
MOUNTAIN COMPOUND
FOR THE HAIR,
IS AN ARTICLE IN WHICH THE PUBLIC MAY PLACE THE UTMOST CONFIDENCE.
THE MOUNTAIN COMPOUND is entirely different from any thing ever before produced. It combines several important medicinal qualities that no other article of the kind has ever had which make it doubly efficacious whether used for promoting the growth or for removing DANDRUFF ERUPTIONS or DISEASES from the skin of the head.
Its powerful Tonic and Lustral qualities give a rich beauty and richness to the texture of the Hair, and in this and legislative Members of Boston, Portland, Lowell and other places, have testified to a very great extent its admirable adaptation for dressing, nourishing and keeping the HAIR MOST A GREAT LENGTH OF TIME—longer, much longer than any thing else can, and no substance is left to soil any fabric however delicate.
Every individual who has bought one bottle of the Compound speaks well of it, and buy several more, and the proprietor feels confident to recommend it from both.
☞ For testimony see small pamphlets.
CAUTION.
N.B. None genuine unless signed on the wrapper H W Foster in a bold hand writing, and also the words are lawfully inserted covering copyright, printed on the back of the wrapper near the foldings, according to act of Congress in the year eighteen hundred and forty six by Horatio W Foster, in the Clerk's office of the District Court of Massachusetts. Also unless there are impressions on the bottles in the glass of FOSTER'S MOUNTAIN COMPOUND. It is not genuine.

READ THE FOLLOWING.
From the Western Star (religious periodical, published at Lancaster Illinois)
DOWNS' VEGETABLE BALSAMIC ELIXIR—We are in the habit of recommending medicines in our columns with which we have never been acquainted, but in this instance we feel bound in duty to say that we have tried Downs' Balsamic Elixir in our family for a cough and found it to be an excellent article. Cough. At the time we tried it we had a cough and found it to be a cordial nature.
Elder Downs announced some years ago that he was himself in poor health at the time, and was thought to be far gone in the consumption, a disease hereditary in his father's family. The remedy was the means of restoring his own health and many others have testified to its salutary effects upon themselves and families.
From the Messiaco (Canada) Post, of April 6 1846
REV N H DOWNS' VEGETABLE BALSAMIC ELIXIR for all diseases of the Chest and Lungs—From the abundant testimonials of those who have made use of this preparation we can recommend it to the public with the utmost confidence in its use and efficacy. The great danger also, of neglecting common complaints incident to the chest and lungs should induce every person subject to such complaints to possess themselves of this valuable remedy.
Sold in Bangor by D BUGBEE and G W LADD (of whom pamphlets may be had giving a full description of the medicine.

RUST PROOF IRON,
FOR
ROOFING WINDOW SHUTTERS &c
THE subscribers beg to call the attention of all those interested in roofing to their GALVANIZED TIN PLATES and to the many advantages which they possess over all metal roofing other substances hitherto used for this purpose, possessing as they do the strength and lightness of iron without its liability to rust having been tested several years, both in this country and Europe. They are also less subject to expansion and contraction from sudden changes of the atmosphere than common Tin Plate Iron, Zinc &c or any other metal now used for roofing and consequently form a much better and tighter roof requiring far less frequent repair, whilst the first cost is but a trifle more.
The subscribers would also call the attention of all dealers and workers in metals to the superiority of their Galvanized Ware which is now almost entirely used in Europe and which answers every purpose in the construction of electricity, costing only about half as much as copper and possessing a durability with that metal.
Having lately erected works in this city for the purpose of galvanizing Nails Spikes Bolts &c they will be able to furnish any article in this line they may be desired. A supply of Plates (manufactured in Europe) constantly on hand from 16 to 10 gauge.

For sale by LUKE C CHILDS, 67 Water St, BOSTON
THE above superior article is fast superceding the use of Leather Belting, as for most purposes it is in every way better. Its good qualities are that no degree of moisture will affect it, and it will bear almost any degree of heat. It is of equal width and thickness throughout and requires only one lacing in the longest belt. Practical mechanics who have used this particular manufacture, think there is a gain of 15 to 25 per cent in the movement of the machinery, as it is perfectly flexible and runs with much less strain upon the pulleys and journals.
Also for sale as above—HOSE, and other Goods of rubber material. Lawfim feb 23

DR. RALPH'S PILLS,
OR UNIVERSAL
DOMESTIC VEGETABLE MEDICINE IS FOUNDED ON THE
ONLY PRINCIPLE IN NATURE on which an Universal Remedy can be safely and consciously recommended to the World.
The following remarks on the nature of that great principle on which this Medicine is founded and on the manner in which it is applicable to all Diseases are submitted to the
of every reasonable and thinking person.
Though it is not generally understood yet there is contained in the human body a wonderful compensating principle, which unites the ORGANS OF DIGESTION with every separate or distant part or organ—and, consequently, also with every other one that can benefit the human family.
To understand this subject fully, it is necessary to be acquainted that nature has supplied a large and powerful nerve for the very purpose of connecting the Organs of Digestion with each separate part of the body. Unlike all other nerves, which begin in the brain and are the ice distributed to every other part, this nerve originates near the Digestive Organs and terminates in the brain. In this course it receives branches with nerves which are scattered in the brain to every part of the body, and thus a sympathetic connection is established. It is in consequence of this, that no impression by medicine or otherwise can be made upon the stomach or intestinal passage which is not capable of affecting any distant part of the body where no disorder can originate in any distant part without affecting the organs of digestion. But it is not only that these organs are the seat of the body have the effect of disturbing the digestive organs, for it happens that whenever these organs are once affected, the disturbed condition sooner or later, reacts upon the original disorder and greatly aggravates it. Thus in Gout, or Rheumatism, or any kind of painful disorder, it will be found, that in proportion as the stomach is disturbed or the bowels constipated, the pain and fever attending such complaints are increased and aggravated. It is therefore a fact which accords with reason as well as every day's experience, that a medicine which controls the sympathetic action of the Digestive Organs, must prove exceedingly extensive in its range of its utility.
Thus, the majority of disorders arise immediately from disturbance of the stomach, the Liver, or the Bowels, but let them spring from whatever cause they may, they cannot continue long without involving one or other of these organs and hence this remedy, which operates to strengthen the stomach promote the secretions of the Liver, and regulate the Bowels, is the most rational, safe and universal, that can be availed of. Further these are the very means which nature herself takes to change wonderful and spontaneous cures we often witness, so that, upholding the natural resources of every constitution, we hereby give to nature the full advantage of her powers.
Again, with respect to the STATE OF THE BLOOD,
this is the only way to make it pure. The principle source of impurities of the Blood, is a disordered condition of the Organs of Digestion, and it this be not correct, all other purifiers of the blood are useless.
THE PECULIAR SAFETY of this Medicine is another circumstance which loudly
COMMENDS IT TO SOCIETY,
there being no fear of taking it improperly in any case whatever. What disorder is there, for instance, that can ever be injured by a medicine that strengthens the feeble and dyspeptic Stomach, corrects the vitiated humors of the Blood, and clears and restores the natural action of the Bowels? If, therefore, no complaint can continue any length of time, or amount to any danger without disturbing the one or the other of these organs, then it follows as the plainest truth, there is no complaint which does not fall within the reach and influence of this medicine, nor any one in which it is not safe and useful in one degree or other. For the same reason, no person can doubt a moment as to its safety and propriety in his or her complaint. Moreover, the pure and simple virtues of certain vegetable remedies being now entirely separated from their useless and injurious parts, these Pills are brought to act with a certainty and safety that was never thought of heretofore. It is next to an impossibility that any person can take them any length of time without acknowledging this truth and as they contain so any number that may be required may be taken with perfect safety for any length of time.
NO MERCURY,
It is not however meant that any single remedy is alone sufficient for the cure of all diseases, and this the more important to remark, as many persons pretend to have such remedies. On the contrary, it is stated in a plain and candid manner, there are diseases which absolutely need the aid of OTHER remedies, and some indeed in which they cannot be witheld a single day without the greatest danger.
In accordance with this, Dr Ralph is pledged, in all his publications, to point out these circumstances, and the remedies required. He has done so, even in the wrapper accompanying every box.
He feels it therefore a duty to repeat explicitly, that although there is no disease whatever in which these pills have not been taken with great advantage, and in most diseases have performed a perfect cure alone, yet there are complaints which absolutely need the aid of other means, and some in which such other measures cannot be witheld with safety.

BANGOR, July 16, 1847

The Penobscot River.

The Penobscot River is a noble stream of water, taking its rise, in one branch in the North east, and in the other branch in the North-west parts of the State, each pouring its separate floods through chains of Lakes towards the centre of the State, and after receiving the waters of several tributary rivers and streams which interlace a vast extent of territory, uniting and together rushing onward to the ocean, now, moving majestically in a strong deep current, affording for many miles, facilities for steam and other boat navigation then tumbling, with boiling surge over huge precipices, forming many useful waterfalls, and a few of surpassing beauty, and others of terrific wildness and grandeur here, lazily lapping the wood-fringed shore of some beautiful island reposing in primeval solitude, and there kissing the green banks of a luxurious meadow, now again gayly threading its silvery way amidst a cluster of islands which seems to tempt its dalliance, but ever gliding, whether with headlong leaps over obstructing ledges which have been broken through by the rush of the ancient flood, or slipping slowly in a deep current, yet ever tending onward to the great ocean Now, perhaps, bearing on its bosom the bark of the Indian or the batteaux and logs of the lumberman, then twisting in a fateful whirls the mill wheel—here bearing the burthen of vast rafts of acres of logs and there buoying upon its bosom well freighted ships of grand dimensions

An object thus varied in its beauty and usefulness, and possessing so much of the beauty of infinity, the poetry of usefulness as some of our younger brethren might say, can hardly fail of possessing some matters of interest to all

The Penobscot is the largest river in Maine. It is formed by the union of two branches called the East and West Its length is 220 miles—Between the junction of the branches and Oldtown, a distance of some seventy miles there are more than 100 islands

The West branch rises near the line of Canada, Northwest of Moosehead lake, and flows with a two and a half mile of that body of water, from which it is separated only by a slight swell of land Gathering its waters by a large number of tributaries, it passes, in its irregular course, through a long succession of lakes, and among them that beautiful sheet of water the Chesuncook lake, which is the admiration of all who visit it, and also the Bamedump kah and Wale nap tee wee keek, and then tumbles its waters with great velocity over Grand Falls, where the waters are contracted to a few rods in width running between high ledges of slate over which it falls about twenty feet, and after receiving the waters of the Millinocket river, and having run a course of about 120 miles it forms a junction with the East branch

The East branch has its source at the east of Mt Katahdin, and flows nearly south In the vicinity of the sources of this branch the head waters of the St John and Aroostook rivers take their rise, on nearly the same level of the Penobscot The Kabogamook or Black river, the principal source of the Penobscot west branch, rises from an elevated swamp or morass, from which issues the Walloostook, the main branch of the St. John Again the lake which is the fountain of the Allaguash river, is but one mile and three quarters from the Umbazookskus, which discharges itself into the Chesuncook lake The level of the head waters of the Allaguash is but 14 feet above that of the Umbazookskus Again Hay brook, a tributary of the east branch of the Penobscot, approaches within 226 rods of the Millinocket lake, a beautiful lake a mile in width and between two and three miles long, forming one of the sources of the Aroostook One more La Pompique, a branch of the Aroostook, is but 154 rods distant from the Seboois, a tributary of the Penobscot, and its level is but 7 feet 7 inches above it Lastly the Mattawamkeag river on the eastern section of the State, spreads its numerous feelers among those of the Aroostook, which interlock and shoot by each other in various directions, leaving only low and narrow strips of land to divide their waters

Advantage has been taken of the proximity of the sources of these rivers, and a dam has been built on the Allaguash river, by which means the Chamberlain lake, about 18 miles long and 3½ broad—the Telosenos lake, about 1 mile square—the Telos lake, about equal to six square miles—have all been flowed, and their waters, instead of escaping by the St John river, their natural outlet, have been brought into the east branch of the Penobscot from lake Telos, by means of a canal about a mile long

After receiving these waters, there are added to the East Branch those of the Seboois and Wassatquoik rivers, and after running in its course 60 miles it unites with the West branch, seventy two miles above Bangor

Two miles south of the junction of the two branches come in the waters of Salmon stream Fourteen miles further south and the flood of the Mattawamkeag river is joined This river is nearly three times as large as Kenduskeag stream From the mouth of the Mattawamkeag the Penobscot descends in an inviting current, navigable for the largest rafts

On its west side the water of the Medunkunk, a small mill stream, and the Matamiscontis, a large stream are mingled, while on the east side come in the waters of the Mattanawcook river

But the most important tributary of the Penobscot is the Piscataquis river, which increases its size about one third This river is received thirty two miles above this city, and with its tributaries is well furnished with commodious water power and of great extent, and in time of freshets admitting of the floating of large rafts its banks are low, and interspersed with rich and extensive meadows At its mouth it descends a fall of 12 or 15 feet, into the Penobscot

Mr Fowler's Lectures on Phrenology.

We hope our citizens will avail themselves of the present opportunity afforded by the presence among us of one of the most successful and scientific phrenologists of the age, of testing the truth of the principles of phrenology, so far as this can be done by listening to lectures, and hearing the principles applied to the explanation of individual characters

Mr. Fowler enjoys a very high reputation as a practical phrenologist, and he comes here, we understand by invitation of some of our citizens, who were desirous of hearing the principles of the science expounded by some one of its masters If Phrenology is, what its advocates claim, it is one of the most important, if not the most important, of the sciences now taught, and accordingly, deserves to be studied with particular reference to education

We hope, therefore, that Mr Fowler's lectures will be fully attended by those who are desirous to know what phrenology is

Indecent Exposure

I wish to ask, through the medium of your paper, if we have no city officers whose duty it is to remove nuisances, if so I would advise them to take their ladies and walk up Harlow street on Sunday morning as the bells are ringing for church—and then I would ask how their ladies were pleased with the sight of some hundred or more of youngsters and men who may always be seen bathing in the Kenduskeag at that time

FROM NEW YORK,
From the Boston Traveller

Wednesday, July 14, 2 P M

Later dates have been received from Monterey but the news was unimportant General Taylor was awaiting reinforcements in order to march to San Luis He expected to start about September 1st

Part of the Massachusetts Regiment was at Ceralvo, and part at Camargo

General Cushing was at Monterey, and had nearly recovered from his wound.

One account says that six companies of the Massachusetts Regiment were at Monterey Chicago Convention.

The proceedings of the River and Harbor Convention, on the second day of its meeting, contain nothing of particular interest, except the Declaration of Sentiments put forth These are embraced in fifteen resolutions The first sets forth the duty of the General Government, as recognized by the Constitution of the United States, to provide for the common defence and to protect and promote the common interests of all the States The 2d and 3d assert that among these common interests the regulation of commerce among foreign nations and among the States, are prominent, and that Congress is under the most solemn obligations to regard them The 4th 5th and 6th resolutions maintain that the obligations to promote internal commerce has been recognized, from the foundation of the Government, as constitutional, by various acts, such as building piers light houses on the lake harbors, and removing obstructions from rivers The 7th asserts the dependence of foreign commerce on internal trade, as that they are so inseparable that they should be regarded as one The 8th declares that the fact that the General Government has extended its jurisdiction over the lakes and rivers, for the purposes of revenue and regulation, precludes it from denying these river and lakes the advantages of general jurisdiction for other purposes, for if the general government has power to control and restrain, it must have the same power to protect, assist and facilitate, and if it opens its jurisdiction in the one mode of action, it should renounce it in the other The 9th and 10th claim for the western lakes and rivers the special care of Government from the fact of their very great need of this care, and because the appropriations to their benefit have not been ofore been in a just and fair proportion to those made or the benefit of the Atlantic coast The 11th urges these appropriations as means of necessary defence against a borrowing enemy In case of war harbors on our lakes would be indispensable for our navy The 15th resolution disclaims any intention of connecting this question of internal improvements with the fortunes of any political party

Several speeches were made on these resolutions, but no final action had been taken on them at our latest dates

We find by the more accurate accounts given in the Chicago papers, that nineteen of the States are represented in the Convention, and that South Carolina has a delegation present

Army Intelligence.

The steamboat Shadin arrived in port last night with four companies of the 4th Regiment of Indiana Volunteers, en route for Mexico, to join Gen Taylor the whole number under the command of Col Gorman, who behaved with distinguished gallantry at the battle of Buena Vista, in command of the Indiana rifles The Colonel made but a short stay at home, being called by the unanimous vote of the regiment to be its commander—a call that he did not feel at liberty to decline

The steamboat M S Hemer also arrived last night, bringing down the second division of the 4 regiment of Indiana volunteers, under the orders of Lt Col Dunnet No better looking body of men or more accomplished officers can be found anywhere When placed at the command of the veteran Taylor if they cannot secure a peace they will deserve their looks

The U S transport schooner Col Fanning, Capt Sheer, from the Brazos, brought two companies of the 1st Illinois volunteers—140 men

Revolution in the Corn Trade.

The Journal of Commerce says—

'The prices of corn is now so different from the expectations of the owners far West that the charges are more than the article is worth Large parcels of corn and some other produce have been abandoned to the forwarders and many parcels the consignees would sell for the charges The original purchase money is therefore a total loss and where the owners are able they will suffer a still further loss'

The editor of the Nashville Union who declared that 'so long as the present tariff remains undisturbed, the prices of provisions must remain high' can, perhaps explain to the corn growers of Tennessee how this fall was occasioned The new tariff is in successful operation, the locofoco tariffists, and, in the same breath, they say that farm produce is sent here for a foreign market is a dead loss to the western vender and that if he is able he will have to pay something besides This looks like being obliged to pay for being hanged Under the old tariff the farmers, we know, got something for their corn but under the new law, the free trade one, it is worse than nothing to the western owner—N Y Express

Later From Mexico

The following telegraph communication received at Baltimore from Fredericksburg, Va dated July 12, contains the latest news from Mexico

The cars have arrived from Richmond, bringing the Southern mail, regularly due, and New Orleans papers to the 5th inst

The papers contain some later news from Mexico and the army under Gen Scott

It is said that a malignant and fatal dysentery was prevailing among the troops under Gen Scott, produced, as was supposed, by the use of poisoned milk Several of the soldiers are said to have died How the milk had become poisoned had not been discovered, but the presumption was, that the poisonous substance was put in it by some malicious Mexicans

The Missouri Volunteers.

A letter from Fort Leavenworth, of late date, informs us that there was considerable trouble in the camp of the volunteers, occasioned by the refusal of one company commanded by Captain Korphey to receive muskets They demanded sabres and rifles A company of regulars was ordered out to restore order, and this was soon done But Dr Pond on their attempting to ride on Sweedenborg theory of creation, has in fact placed himself in direct antagonism to all the philosophy of the day, for the theory in question is no other than the great nebular theory of La Place To place the subject more prominently before the reader we extract a statement of that theory from a recent phrenological work*

The celebrated speculation of La Place, now very generally received as probable by astronomers concerning the origin of the earth and planets, participates essentially in the strictly inductive character of modern geological theory The speculation is, that the atmosphere of the sun originally extended to the present limits of the solar system, from which, by the process of cooling it has contracted to its present dimensions, and since, by the general principle of the chaunce, the rotation of the sun and of its accompanying atmosphere must increase in rapidity as its volume diminishes, the increased centrifugal force generated by the more rapid rotation, overbalancing the action of gravitation, would cause the sun to abandon successive rings of vaporous matter, which are supposed to have condensed by cooling, and to have become our planets There is in this theory no unknown substance introduced upon supposition, nor any unknown property or law ascribed to a known substance The known laws of matter authorize us to suppose that a body which is constantly giving out so large a quantity of heat as the sun is, must be progressively cooling, and that by the process of cooling it must contract, it therefore we endeavor, from the present state of that luminary, to infer its state in a time long past, we must necessarily suppose that its atmosphere extended much farther than at present and we are entitled to suppose that it extended as far as we can trace those effects which it would naturally leave behind it on retiring, and such the planets are These suppositions being made, it follows from known laws that successive zones of the solar atmosphere would be abandoned, that these would continue to revolve round the sun with the same velocity they when they formed a part of his substance and that they would cool down, long before the star himself, to any given temperature, and consequently to that at which the greatest part of the vaporous matter of which they consisted would become liquid or solid

The known law of gravitation would then cause them to agglomerate in masses, which would assume the shape our planets actually exhibit, would acquire, each around its own axis, a rotatory movement, and would in that state revolve, as the planets actually do, about the sun, in the same direction with the sun's rotation, but with less velocity, and each of them in the same periodic time which the sun's rotation occupies when his atmosphere extended to that point, and this also M Comte has, by the necessary calculations, ascertained to be true, within certain small limits of error There is, then in La Place's theory, nothing hypothetical it is an example of legitimate reasoning from the present effect to its past cause, according to its known laws of that cause, it assumes nothing more than that objects which really exist, obey the laws which are known to be obeyed by all terrestial objects resembling them

We wonder if the keen optics of Dr Pond would detect any evidence of 'insanity' or of 'profound ignorance, in the above extract and yet this contains the very doctrines which he says are based in ignorance and error The truth is, that he has given the works of Swedenborg so hasty and desultory a glance, that he has failed as a general fact to arrive at a just idea of the subject matter treated of, and misapprehending, has of course misrepresented his views

So in relation the Dr's next reference—'The following is Swedenborg's description of the atmosphere 'it consists he says, of discrete substances (particles), of a very minute form, originating from the sun The fire of the sun each of them receives, treasures it up, tempers it, and conveys as heat to the earth, and in like manner also the light' What will our modern lecturers about oxygen, nitrogen and carbon say to this? Now Swedenborg is not here attempting to give a chemical analysis of the atmosphere, but only describing the mode of the sun's action upon it—a subject which comes under the head of electricity rather than chemistry a subject on which Swedenborg will be found to have seen not quite so profoundly ignorant as Dr Pond imagines as will appear from the fact that the 'Disunignetic theory which Prof Faraday has recently communicated to the world as the result of his latest experiments, was clearly and distinctly laid down by Swedenborg one hundred years ago, with the single exception of not using Prof Faraday's new term 'diamagnetic

L. & W. T. ADAMS beg leave to inform their friends and the public, that they have taken the above new and splendid Hotel.

THE ADAMS HOUSE was erected during the past season to supply an obvious demand for increased and superior accommodations in this City. It is located on Washington street, within five minutes walk of the great Southern and Western Rail-Road Depots, and the business sections of the City. It is adjacent to the Park, and the Cupola commands a beautiful view of the Harbor and the adjoining towns.

The House has been constructed after the most approved plans, with all the modern inventions that minister to the comfort and convenience of the Traveler, and the Constructor's long experience in Hotels has enabled him to introduce many improvements, which are, as yet, peculiar to this Establishment. It is built of Quincy Granite, and contains one hundred and fifty Rooms, conveniently arranged in suits and single apartments, well ventilated, and supplied with an abundance of pure soft water.

The Furniture was made to order from the best patterns, with special regard as well to comfort and convenience, as luxury and splendor.

Our Table will be supplied with all the luxuries of the season, and we pledge ourselves that the first rush to the season shall be found upon it.

We have devoted unusual attention to the selection of Servants, and our Guests may safely upon prompt and polite attendance.

Porters will be in readiness at the various Depots to take charge of baggage, and provide Carriages for our Guests.

The Proprietors trust by strict attention to the wants of Guests to merit a share of patronage, assuring all who may favor them with a visit that nothing shall be wanting on their part to render the ADAMS HOUSE second to none in the Union.

THE GRAEFENBERG PILLS.
THERE ARE THE MOST CONCLUSIVE REASONS why that class of Medicines denominated "PATENT," should be made the means of incalculable and enduring blessings to the human family (supposing, for example, it actually to order of total, long and conscious observation, and great medical learning and experience are brought to bear upon the invention and manufacture of the PILL. Why may not this long devotion to this division of medical science be crowned with the success that attends the successful practitioner in any other things? There is no reason, and it is but the simplest dictate of the simplest common sense to say that a Pill thus produced will be as perfect an article as can be made by man. Twenty five years devotion to any one subject will give a man of ability the mastery over it. This labor has been bestowed upon the
and they are presented to the public with claims unparalleled in the whole history of medical science.
It will be seen, in tracing the history of all great inventions, that they were not made or discovered until the arrival of what may be termed THE FULNESS OF TIME. The mariner's compass, for instance, was not invented until the "fullness of time" it was needed. The loadstone always lay at man's feet, but he never knew such a wonderful and unerring guide was treasured in its silent bosom, until the Divinely appointed time drew near when distant continents and islands were to be unveiled. It had it now transferred to the pinnacle of the adventurous sailor, emboldening him to launch far away upon the broken Oceans, instead of timidly sailing within sight of familiar land marks.
So with the discovery of the New World, upon whose shores was to arise this Giant Nation to a power, a glory, a renown far beyond the conception of the wild fancy. The Old World had reached its highest station. The "fullness of time" drew near for the revelation of the New, and behold the immortal Columbus from the fortunate of his early and lucky vessel found it so with the invention of printing, of steam, of the magnetic telegraph. Each of these had its own "fullness of time," marked, distinct and providential.
☞ In MEDICAL SCIENCE THE SAME GREAT PRINCIPLE PRACTICE IS EQUALLY MORE. Most beautiful illustrations and proofs of this which are to be found in the history of the world. We can trace them from the Mosaic dispensation down to the present hour; all of them teaching us the lesson and giving us the hope that something yet better is to heal human maladies is behind.
That this principle is no true of Medical as of Physical science is clearly shown in the GRAEFENBERG GAZETTE, which is furnished gratuitously to all who wish it.—The Graefenberg Pills, are deemed by all who have tested them, to be an invaluable addition to the medical combinations and discoveries hitherto known, and they are announced
THE GREAT REMEDIAL TRIUMPH
The inventor of these Pills rests on theory upon no scientific dogma of dignity medical teachers. Planting himself upon the revelation of the
ALMIGHTY CREATOR, THAT
"THE BLOOD IS THE LIFE,"
he requires that his disciples and his patients make pure the life current that keeps through their veins and arteries, before they can hope for a permanent cure. He leaves the cavalry them and so can others, but bright and joyous health must come from a pure blood.
But a new and thought here comes in! So countless are the impositions which are practiced upon the public by pretenders, and so numerous and boastful are the medicines advertised, that the reader may be slow to believe in this Great Remedy. A word therefore, on this point.
In the second place, READ THE GRAEFENBERG GAZETTE. There you will find many cures, in that paper all convincing proof. You would have been convinced in every State, in Territory in the Union and among the distinguished citizens, jurists, clergymen, physicians, testimony of the Patent Medicine Vendors would fill the page. Let the reader send to the most convenient agency for a copy of the Gazette, which can be had.
GERMS!!
In the second place, TRY THE PILLS. It will cost but the trifling sum, and will introduce you to a medicine which you will keep a blessing to the end of your days.
A thousand things crowd upon the minds of the advertiser which they would require to say to the reader, but the limit to an advertisement forbids. But let any one afflicted with the following diseases make trial of the Graefenberg Pills and they will be PERMANENTLY CURED!
Stomach,
Bilious Complaints,
Colds
Bowels deficient action in,
Breast Pains,
Catarrh
Constipation,

Nervous headaches,
In all public or chronic diseases, these Pills achieve the most wonderful triumph. The VERY DEVILS in the system. And as the susceptibility of the American constitution is to those diseases, they are only fitted here.
The Pills the New World
Their wonderful efficacy in those complaints arises from their power to OPEN THE PORES, CLEANSE AND STRENGTHEN THE STOMACH AND BOWELS MAKE THE UNDERSTANDING LIVELY AND CLEAR AND TO GIVE TONE AND STRENGTH TO THE SYSTEM.
It is impossible to set the limits of an ordinary advertisement to give the reader the reasons for the most extraordinary cures depending on the use of the Pills. But in hundreds and thousands in this country, and among them the accomplished Physicians, Jurists, Clergymen, and private citizens, positive testimony.
☞ Numerous Certificates of the wonderful efficacy of these Pills might be presented, but no certificate in these days is deemed worth the paper on which it is printed. A few extracts from the correspondence of the Company, will, however, be given.
FROM INDIANA
"You are entitled to the enterprise of the day. Its magnitude will astonish the originators. It is destined to effect a complete revolution in the medical world."
From a Justice of the Peace in Western N York
"I have sold a number of boxes to the citizens of this place. They have given entire satisfaction, and they are destined to become the most popular Pill of the day."
FROM TOLEDO, OHIO
"Having heard so much, and witnessed two or three cases reported in the mode directed by your Journal, I have it ought to important you should have an agent at this place. In my opinion, more good can be done in this vicinity by your medicines, than by the old modes."
I address you at the instance of a friend who is making a thorough trial of your remedies, and with complete success."
FROM A DISTINGUISHED GENTLEMAN OF BOSTON:
Gentlemen,
I can not refrain from troubling you with a few lines to express my great pleasure in being able to say, that I have experienced the greatest relief from the effect of your Pills. For many years I have suffered much from constipation, which has disarranged my whole system, and I have not known a day's good health for many years past, and being an old man, I despaired of ever again enjoying it, but a friend recommended me to try your Pills, which I did, although without any confidence the result, I am happy to inform you, has far exceeded my expectations, the cause of my suffering is nearly removed, and I feel my health and strength fully restored, and I am satisfied that the merits of your Pills, when tested must be acknowledged by the whole community, and will become the most popular medicine of the day."
FROM JUDGE ——, OF GEORGIA
Sir,
Since writing to you last upon the subject of my ill health, I have been taking your medicine, and am pleased to say, that they have been of great service to me and if they continue to give me the relief I have often felt, I shall bless the day you sent them. I need not attempt to describe the sufferings I have before told you of, but intend to per overe, and hope to be able, the next time I write, to give you the happy intelligence of a perfect cure. I have heard of many instances in my neighborhood where they have performed some extraordinary cures."
FROM AN EPISCOPAL BISHOP
Gentlemen—I consider it to be the duty of every Christian to make known to the world any advantages that they may have derived by accident or from any discovery of their own, and with this sentiment strongly impressed on my mind, I feel great gratification in having it in my power to speak in the highest terms of the valuable discovery you have made in the production of your Pills. I was induced to try them, from the philosophical manner in which you have reasoned on the subject, and I must do myself the pleasure, and you the justice to say, that I had no conception so speedily an effect would be arrived at. My complaint has been that of the Liver, from which I despaired of getting better, but never taking your Pills I find my general health, spirits and appetite so much improved that I hope to find myself able to endure, without bodily suffering, the duties of a arduous Profession. In future I will send to your agent for more Pills when needed. With great consideration and great esteem, I am &c

MOUNTAIN COMPOUND!
FOR THE HAIR,
IS AN ARTICLE IN WHICH THE PUBLIC MAY PLACE THE UTMOST CONFIDENCE
is entirely different from any thing ever before produced. It combines several important medicinal properties that no other article of the kind does, and makes it doubly efficacious whether used as a restorative for removing DANDRUFF, ERUPTIONS, or DISEASES from the skin of the head.
Its powerful Tonic and Lustral qualities give a beauty and richness to the texture of the hair, and gentlemen of Boston, Portland, Lowell and other places, have testified to a very great degree to its admirable adaptation for dressing, curling, and keeping the HAIR MOIST and of the LENGTH OF TIME—longer, much longer than any thing else can, and no substance is left to soil or stiffen the hair however delicate.
Every individual who has bought one bottle of the Compound speaks well of it, and buy never before the proprietor feels a confident to recommend it to the public.
☞ For testimony see small pamphlets.
CAUTION.
N B None genuine unless signed on the wrapper H W Foster, in his own hand writing, and the following words are lawfully inscribed, securing copyright, printed on the back of the wrapper near the bottle, entered according to act of Congress in the year eighteen hundred and forty-six, by Horatio W Foster in the Clerk's office of the District Court of Massachusetts. Also, unless there are impressions on the bottles itself in the glass of "FOSTER'S MOUNTAIN COMPOUND," it is not genuine.

From the "Western Star," an English paper published in Jacksonville Illinois
"DOWNS' VEGETABLE BALSAMIC PHYSIC—We are not in the habit of puffing medicines, but some months having used the above compound and with great success, and being requested by many persons to give our opinion concerning it that it is our duty to make it known for the benefit of the public. We can speak in the highest terms of it as a remedy for Coughs, Colds, Consumption, Whooping Cough, Asthma, and diseases of the lungs and throat, and we do not hesitate to give it a recommendation. We have seen a letter published in the Boston Post, in which it is said that the proprietors are willing to pay the money back if it does not cure the patient. We do not hesitate to say that if the medicine be taken according to the directions, it will do what is represented. We have seen many persons who have used it, and all have been benefited by it.
